Bay of Palma, creating an impressive view from the Mediterranean Sea with its imposing Gothic Cathedral towering above the old town and remnants of medieval walls that testify to its ancient history. Mallorca has a varied history, from the Roman occupation in the 2nd century to Moorish control from the 9th to the 13th century. Later reconquered by the Spanish kings, it rose to wealth and power due to its strategic position along the seagoing trade routes between Africa and Europe. Today, Palma is the largest city, and also the main tourist area, with beaches on either side of the city that overflow with resort hotels. If you venture beyond these environs, the island's natural beauty abounds, and life continues in a predictably underdeveloped atmosphere of simplicity. This aspect has long been an attraction for writers, painters and musicians that find inspiration here. Tonight will be your last dinner on-board your ship. Then it's time to pack as you depart your ship tomorrow morning...sigh.

DAY 16 Thursday, March 19 | Arrive in Barcelona, Spain

This morning after one more included breakfast, it's time to depart the ship. Meet your local guide and motor-coach just outside the terminal. You will then depart on a full day tour of Barcelona. Some of the sites visited will be the Park Guell and Sagrada Familia Church designed by Gaudi. Enjoy a visit to the historic Gothic Quarter and the La Rambla Market. You will then check into your hotel for the next two nights. Dinner this evening is on your own.

Day 17 Friday, March 20 | Touring Spain, France & Andorra

This morning depart with your local guide on a private tour to explore the countryside in three different countries! You will first head towards the very small country of Andorra and cross into that country via a high-mountain pass. Visit Andorra la Vella, the capitol, where you can explore landmarks like Casa de la Vail. You will then continue on to the Cirque de Pessons with a stunning view of glacial lakes and the Pyrenees Mountains. Afterwards, cross the border in France to visit Ax-les-Thermes, a French spa town known for its thermal springs. There you will have some free time to explore the town, visit local shops, and enjoy the natural hot springs. You will then return back to your hotel in the early evening to pack for home. Join your group in the hotel restaurant for an included toast to a wonderful trip!

Day 18 Saturday, March 21 | Heading home

This morning depart very early in the morning for the airport and your flight home. You will arrive this evening into Terminal 1 at the MSP Airport with wonderful memories of a most relaxing vacation!
